KUNG FU TAI CHI DAY
& 功夫太極日

On May 18-19, 2019, the Tiger Claw Elite Championships will be held downtown San Jose, California. The 2019 Tiger Claw Elite Championships includes three major martial arts events: the 11th Annual Tiger Claw Elite KungFuMagazine.com Championship and the 7th Annual Tiger Claw Elite Taekwondo Championship, plus the 8th Annual KUNG FU TAI CHI DAY.

The Tiger Claw Elite Championships are held in the luxurious San Jose McEnery Convention Center, in the heart of downtown San Jose. The Convention Center is Silicon Valley's premiere venue and is within walking distance of hotels, restaurants, bars, theaters and shopping, all the best that San Jose has to offer.

Previous Tiger Claw Elite KungFuMagazine.com Championships have garnered international attention, attracting masters and competitors from Africa, Europe, North and South America and, of course, China. It drew more than 2500 competitors and spectators. Previous sponsors include Disney, Tiger Balm, El Rey Network, California Bank and Trust, the City of San Jose, China Books, Chinese Today Radio, Five Branches University, One Work Place, UPS and numerous independently-owned martial arts schools.

The Tiger Claw Elite Championships has substantial media exposure. Beyond expansive coverage in our newsstand magazine Kung Fu Tai Chi, the Tiger Claw Elite Championships will be featured on our peripheral social networking platforms including Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, MySpace, and more. A Tiger Claw Elite Championships Program and DVD will also be produced.

This is a unique opportunity to reach your target demographic, the Asian/American community and the martial arts world. We would be honored to have your support.

COMPANY BACKGROUND

In 2006, Tiger Claw launched the Tiger Claw Elite Championship (TCEC). TCEC was in cooperation with Disney, beginning at Disneyland® in Anaheim California and ending at Disney's Wide World of Sports® Complex near Orlando, Florida. In between, TCEC travelled through about a dozen tournaments across the nation. TCEC featured divisions for Chinese, Korean and Japanese arts and were nested within regional participating tournaments. The closest event to Tiger Claw Headquarters in California was RDK's Ultimate Internationals, held at the Santa Clara Convention Center.

TC Media International, a division of Tiger Claw, publishes Kung Fu Tai Chi, a quarterly newsstand magazine focused on the Chinese martial arts. The San Francisco Bay Area is home to dozens of Karate and Taekwondo tournaments every year, but only a few that emphasize Chinese martial arts, so with the influence of Kung Fu Tai Chi, that martial community responded the most enthusiastically. Consequently, the Chinese divisions quickly dominated the Bay Area TCEC in Santa Clara for its three-year run.

Just prior to the 2008 TCEC, the disastrous Sichuan quake hit China. In only eleven days, the Tiger Claw Foundation, Tiger Claw's charitable arm, called upon leading local martial artists and produced the Martial Arts Benefit for Quake Victims, a fundraising performance, to conclude the tournament event. The project raised over $73,000 which was donated to construct a new school in Sichuan. TCEC went on hiatus after 2008.

In 2009, the local Chinese community hoped the tournament to continue, so by popular demand, the Tiger Claw KungFuMagazine.com Championship (TCKFMC) had its inaugural year. TCKFMC enjoyed four successful events, all held in the spacious South Hall of the San Jose McEnery Convention Center.

In 2012, Kung Fu Tai Chi celebrated two decades of publishing with KUNG FU TAI CHI 20 YEARS. The celebration combined Tiger Claw's KungFuMagazine.com Championship with a Gala Banquet and KUNG FU TAI CHI DAY, a street fair in downtown San Jose. KUNG FU TAI CHI 20 YEARS was an overwhelming success, documented in a special issue of Kung Fu Tai Chi (September+October 2012) as well as with over two thousand photos on Kung Fu Tai Chi facebook albums and dozens of videos on Kung Fu Tai Chi's YouTube channel.

In 2013, TCEC was relaunched as an event that combined Tiger Claw's KungFuMagazine.com Championship, KUNG FU TAI CHI DAY, and the Tiger Claw Elite Taekwondo Championship, along with several other events along the way.

In 2017, Kung Fu Tai Chi celebrated another major milestone with the KUNG FU TAI CHI 25th Anniversary Festival. This included all the events of TCEC, plus a command performance Grandmasters LIVE! at San Jose's historic California Theater and a celebratory banquet. The three-day Festival was an overwhelming success, and received extensive media exposure.

Last year was the 10th Annual Tiger Claw Elite KungFuMagazine.com Championships, and the event expanded with more divisions, and nearly 650 competitors. This year, we anticipate even more competitors and attendees.
